Dr Rezso Banyasz

It was very good to see you in London during Mr Kadar's visit and I very much enjoyed lunch together.

In the course of our talk I said that, much as I would like to visit Hungary at your invitation, I find it very difficult to get away from No 10 while doing my Chief Press Secretary job. This is a full time executive post and the person occupying it is always on duty.

Perhaps when I give up the post and (?) retire, it might be sensible to review the idea of a visit. Meanwhile, I hope you understand that it is virtually impossible to get away.
